Notice regarding investments in Motus Ventures SWIF fund

Accelerating innovation for autonomous robotics

Through its US subsidiary Fuji America Corporation (headquarters: Illinois, USA), FUJI CORPORATION (headquarters: Chiryu, Aichi; president and COO: Mr. Shinsuke Suhara) (hereafter collectively, "FUJI") has joined Smart World Innovation Fund (hereafter "SWIF") managed by American venture capital firm Motus Ventures (headquarters: California, USA).

FUJI's robot development extends beyond industrial robotics, and includes the development of autonomous transportation robots for the logistics field. FUJI has committed itself to establishing technologies that include advanced sensing, communication, electricity, and other infrastructure through open innovation with startups, striving toward a future in which robots are a part of daily life.

Motus Ventures is an early stage venture capital fund and business accelerator focusing on AI, robotics, and IoT. The company helps to launch new businesses across different fields including industrial manufacturing, transportation, agriculture, and telecommunications in collaboration with academic and research institutes.
